

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAY LAND NEW MANUFACTORY FOR CITY.

Industry Will Give Employment to 150 Men—Report to Be Made Tomorrow Night.

A long and busy session of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday at the headquarters in the First National Bank building, the attention of the directors being especially directed to plans for concern, a new industry. A special committee was appointed to look into the matter, and it is expected that the first regular meeting of May, which will be held next Thursday evening, May 11 at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce, room 1.

It is also understood that it would be inappropriate at this time to give out the details of the new industry posing the problem, of the matter in shape for a full report. It may be stated, however, that the new industry is one that is within the broad limits, and it is hoped that every member of the Chamber will be prepared to hear the report of the committee and enter into the discussion of it.

On the other hand, the Chamber of Commerce was placed in a favorable position by the West Newton Board of Trade and it has been most serviceable to other towns along the line of the road, and that it could serve a larger and better purpose in turning to County of Middlesex, the merchants generally agree.

The semi-monthly bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce was issued this morning to all members and contains a list of the directors and officers during the past year, and a request that all members make it a point to be present at Thursday night's meeting, when important matters will be taken up and discussed.

CONSPIRACY SUIT AT HARRISBURG.	SEARCH RIVER FOR DROWNED BODIES.

James Scarlet Assears for Commonwealth in the Capital Graft Cases Today

United Press. Peter. am. — HARRISBURG, May 13.—James Scarlet for the commonwealth this morning opened the prosecution this morning when the second capital graft inquiry cases started. He said the defendants were charged with conspiracy to defraud the state on a bill for the furniture in the capital. He then explained that the bill dated April 1, 1906 for motive furniture at $110 per foot, a total of $175,700 or less, contained a list of goods which should have been $170,000 less than was paid, because it was the furniture of all of the "heavy" construction. Mr. Scarlet promised the state that he would show that instead of the bill

Effort Being Made to Locate Persons Drowned When Steamer Ran Down Launch

PITTSBURGH, May 13—Searching parties today are scouring the Allegheny river for the bodies of two young men and two young women who drowned when a live launch ran down a steam launch. The latter was composed of Anna Gustave, John Foster and some whose names were not recalled. The launch was believed to have been a launch from Seventh and E. wharf. Several hours later the small craft was run down upsetting it. The number of the larger vessel could not be seen. The young people started falling in before a rescue could be thrown them, they sank. Foster's coat containing $200, was found in the river this morning.

BALTIMORE, May 17.—The Guinness children were chloroformed of course said Rev. E. A. Seab of the Laporte Indian Methodist Church. The children were taken to the room and fired over them but the woman a body found in the room was not that of the Guinnesses. It was to the Rev. Seab that the Rev. J. H. Seab hired man on the Guinness place made the first confession. He was called East, after the second interview with the Rev. J. H. Seab, and he was given a full measure the latter's confidence than any person in the Indian town.

Did Humphrey have anything to say about the matter? The Rev. Seab said, the clerkly man was asked.

I am sure he was innocent of all this but of Hazelades was the one to play but of the latter he was jealous.

Did he confess to the Hazelades murder?

He can't answer that (the minister said) would not be fair. He was in a pitiable condition when he first went for me.

semi-Annual Meeting of the J. O. C. Society of Methodist Church Pleasant Gathering

Thirty-two members were present at the last evening of the regular monthly meeting of the J. O. C. Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church held at the home of Miss Ethel Buckingham on West Apple street. The meeting was presided over by Miss Ethel Buckingham, business transacted was the semi-annual election of officers. The election resulted as follows: Presiding Officer, Miss Simpson Vice Presiding Officer, Miss Simpson Secretary, Miss Chorprenant Treasurer, Miss Ethel Dunn Corresponding Secretary, Miss Ethel Buckingham. It was decided to have the next committee on the help committee too and an attendance committee. The committees will be appointed later.

At the close of the business meeting the members socialized and enjoyed. Music and various games were the amusement until about 10.30 o'clock when the daily refreshments were served. The women in company were singing many songs taught by Miss Anna McDuff.

Arrangements Being Made for Field and Organization of Baseball Teams

Summer athletics was the main topic for discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y M C A last night. As yet nothing has been definitely decided but it is probable that within a short time an appropriate field will be secured and work started on it.

Philo J. Dierker, Esq., will have charge of all athletics and the following baseball teams will be organized: Senior Intermediate and Junior. Several games will be played with out of town teams.

Entertained at Dinner
In honor of her mother Mrs E Trimlbath 72nd birthday anniversary Mrs J S Michael entertained yesterday afternoon at her home on Eighth street. Greenwood between young and old guests were decorated with flowers. The table was decorated throughout the house were called out in the colors purple and white bouquets of violets and other spring flowers being used. Seventeen friends of the honor guest were present and the party was a most enjoyable one. Perhaps none enjoyed the occasion more than Mrs Trimlbath. The festivity of the afternoon was a number of vocal selections. At 5 o'clock a very beautiful arranged birthday dinner was served. Mrs Trimlbath was the recipient of many pretty and useful presents.

Missionary Guild Meets
Miss Eleanor Marshall entertained the Young Ladies Missionary Guild of the First Baptist Church last evening at her home on South Pittsburgh street. The meeting was the regular monthly one of the Guild and the attendance was large. The regular routine business was transacted after which refreshments were served.

THE SUMMER VACATION GUIDE

The summer vacation is the bright spot in the dull routine of the year's work. It breaks the monotony of the daily round, and cheers and invigorates for the strenuous life ahead.

America abounds with delightful summer resorts in valleys, on mountain and beside the sea. The Atlantic coast line from Labrador to Cape Hatteras contains the greatest number of resorts devoted entirely to the pursuit of pleasure and health in the world.

One may purchase from Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agents excursion tickets to over eight hundred of these resorts covering all the desirable places from the rock bound bays of Newfoundland to the gentle sand slopes of the Virginia beaches, from the White Mountains of New Hampshire to the Cumberland Mountains of Tennessee in the wilds of Canada along the shores of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes.

The famous seacoast resorts of New Jersey—Atlantic City, Cape May Wildwood Ocean City Sea Isle City Asbury Park, Long Branch Spring Lake Seaside Park Beech Haven, and others, so well known that description is superfluous—are among the most popular and the most easily accessible resorts in the county.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Summer Excursion Book to be obtained of Ticket Agents at ten cents a copy or of the General Passenger Agent at Philadelphia by mail postpaid for 25 cents, describes them all and gives the rates and stopover privileges allowed on tickets.

SCOTSDALE.

SCOTSDALE, May 12.—J. H. Huest, a lifelong resident of this place, died last night at 6:30 at his late residence after a lingering illness. Deceased was 49 years of age and has resided here the greater part of his life. He was well known and loved by all. He is survived by his wife and three children, four brothers and two sisters. He was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral services will probably take place from his late residence on Thursday afternoon with interment in the Scottdale cemetery.

Samuel Howard, Leo Miller and James Dorley went to Greensburg yesterday to attend the trial of J. E. Newingham against Samuel Miller for reckless driving, resulting in the death of a horse. The case was settled without a trial.

The Scottdale Foundry & Machine Company has sent a force of men to Brandywine to erect the new patent coke-puncher put out by them. The machine will be installed at the plant of E. A. Humphries of town and is intended to push out 50 ovens a day.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team was organized last night. Carl Gilbert being elected captain and E. C. Evans manager. The entire squad will report for practice tomorrow. Teams desiring games can address E. C. Evans, manager, care of Y. M. C. A.

The lads are all worked up over the release of Williams, the boy who performed Monday against Charleroi, and whose work up until the sixth inning was of the gilded order. He is said to have been promised a berth with Unbtown and will likely accept.

Superintendent Miller and J. W. Darr, night man, of the foundry, were testing a new patent fan in the shops last night which is said to be a great success and a great improvement on the many fans now in use around mines. Many thought that an extra touch was put on on account of a rush of work.

Mrs. P. J. McGrath and daughter, who have been visiting Mrs. T. Strawn for the past few days, has returned home.

W. A. Todd left for Pittsburg yesterday looking over the specifications for the new plants in the Upper Kinty dyke region. The firm are over contractors with headquarters in Uniontown.

Charles Repler and Charles H. Copeland of the County Seat were here on business yesterday.

Patrick Kelly of Mt. Pleasant was here on business yesterday.

Mrs. E. M. S. Pyle and her guest, Mrs. J. W. Faust, left yesterday to visit friends in East Pittsburg and Sharpsburg.

Mr. Byrnes of Uniontown was calling on friends here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Donohue and the Misses Margaret and Elizabeth O'Donnell attended the dance in Mt. Pleasant last night.

PAYING BY CHECK

is the Regular Practice on John Bull's Island.

"It is noticeable that the English carry very little money with them," observed a travelling man who spent last summer abroad. "Their system is to pay everything with checks, and whether they are buying a hat or a dinner, the settlement is made with a check."—N. Y. World.

This is a practice that we in this country would do well to adopt. Paying by check is much the safer way. You cannot lose or be robbed of money when it is safe in the bank. The First National Bank of Connellsville cordially invites you to open a checking account with it, no matter how small.

MILLINERY

The new 1908 Hats are here in elegant variety. We have made every effort to have our Millinery Department placed on a practical basis. ## Schmitz' New York Racket Store

Sophy of Kravonia.

By ANTHONY HOPE.
Author of "The Prisoner of Zenda."
Copyright, 1906, Anthony Hope Hawkins.

On Friday morning—the day before that appointed for Mistitch's trial—the names of the members of the court were published. The list met with the reception which was no doubt anticipated even by the prince himself. The streets began to fill with loiterers, talkers and watchers; barrack rooms were vergerous with grumbling and with speculation; Statia, with Rastus always at his heels, was busy with many interviews; Stenovic sat in his room moodily staring before him, seeking a road out of his blind alley, and a carriage drew up before the sign of the Silver Cock as the cathedral bells chimed noon. It was empty inside, but by the driver sat Peter Vassip, the prince's personal attendant, wearing the sheepskin coat, leather breeches and high boots that the men of the hills wore. His business was to summon Sophy to Suleiman's tower.

The square of St. Michael was full of life and bustle. The Golden Lion did a fine trade. But the center of interest was on the north wall and the adjacent quays under the shadow of Suleiman's tower. Within those walls were the two protagonists. Thence the prince issued his orders. Thither Mistitch had been secretly conveyed the night before by a party of the prince's own guard, trustworthy Volensians. A crowd of citizens and soldiers was chattering and staring at the tower when Sophy's carriage drew up at the entrance of the bridge which, crossing the North river, gave access to the fort. The mouth of the bridge was guarded by fifty of those same Volensians. They had but to retreat and raise the bridge behind them, and Mistitch was safe in the trap. Only the crowd was quick enough to understand the situation—the prisoner's trap could be made a snare for his jailer too. Unless provisions could be obtained from the country around it would be impossible to hold the tower for long against an enemy controlling the "butchers" and "bakers" shops of Slavna. Yet it could be held long enough to settle the business of Captain Hercules.

Sophy entered the time worn walls of Suleiman's tower with a thrill of pleasure and followed Peter Vassip up the narrow stair with a delighted curiosity. The prince received her in the large round room which constituted the first floor of the central tower. Its furniture was simple, almost rude, its massive walls quite bare save for some pieces of ancient armor. Narrow slits, deep set in the masonry, served for windows and gave a view of the city and of the country around on every side. They showed the seething throng on the north wall and on the quays. The distant sound of a thousand voices struck the ear.

Zerkovitch and his wife were with the prince, seated over a simple meal, at which Sophy joined them. Marie had watched Sophy's entrance and the prince's greeting closely. She marked Sophy's excitement betrayed in the familiar signal on her cheek. But the journalist was too excited on his own account to notice other people. He was talking feverishly, throwing his lean body about and dashing his hands up and down. He hardly paused to welcome the newcomer. He had a thousand plans by which the prince was to overcome and hold down Slavna. One and all they had the same defect. They supposed the absence of the danger which they were contrived to meet. They assumed that the soldiers would obey the command and not even with the sound of the rifles which had shot Mistitch fresh in their ears.

At last the prince patted Zerkovitch's shoulder indulgently. "Well, it's good not to fear," he said. "We didn't fear the other night, Milla de Groche and I, and all ended well!" "Ended?" Marie murmured half under her breath.

The prince laughed. "You shan't make me afraid," he told her, "any more than Zerkovitch shall make me. Trust Colonel Statia. I can't say any more than that." He turned to Sophy. "I think you'd better stay here till we see what's going to happen tonight, and our friends here will do the same. If all's quiet you can go home to sleep. If not, we can give you quarters—rough ones, I'm afraid." He rose from the table and went to a window. "The crowd's thinner. They've gone off to eat and drink. We shall have one quiet hour at all events."

An orderly entered and gave him a letter. He read it and said, "Tell General Stenovic I will receive him here, at 2 o'clock." When the messenger had gone, he turned round toward the table. "A last appeal, I suppose! With all the old arguments! But the general has nothing to give in exchange for Mistitch. My price would be very high."

"No price! No price!" cried Mary Zerkovitch. "He raised his sword against you! He must die!" "Yes, he must die," he turned to the window again. Sophy rose from the table and joined him there, looking over the city. Directly beneath was the great gate, flanked on either side by broad, massive walls, which seemed to grow out of the waters of the river. He was aware of her movement, though he had not looked round at her. "I've brought you, too, into this trouble—you, a stranger," he said. (To be Continued.)

The Lowest May Prices Ever Quoted Upon Wright-Metzler Co.'s Apparel

This is not a special purchase of the "left overs" of some manufacturer, but our own superb and carefully selected stocks—placed on sale at the lowest prices ever quoted in May—We're overstocked—That's the story in a nutshell.

As we told you in the beginning of the season, we bought more heavily than in any previous season. We were fascinated by the style and extreme beauty of the garments and in the face of impending industrial disturbance—"we plunged." Weather conditions and general business depression have caused us to be overstocked. (This is the one reason why you can buy our apparel at a fraction of its worth right in the middle of May. The sale will begin Friday, May 15, and continue one week.

Think of buying our $25.00 Clothing at $17.50

Over one hundred suits of "Benjamin Clothes" all cut and tailored this season from the most wanted fabrics.

THE men of Fayette county have never been offered more striking values than these. Every suit comprised in this sale was made in New York City this season by the foremost style organization in that city. Strict attention has been given to the selection of fabrics as well as the studied lines of the Benjamin product. We're overstocked and its good sound business sense to reduce our stocks to normal size. Price cutting is the quickest and surest way. Most any fellow will pay $17.50 for a $25.00 Benjamin Suit in the middle of May. You have seen these clothes in our window—They impressed you. The one you liked best is here now at $17.50. On sale for one week, beginning May 15th.

Every desirable fabric from the best mills in the country go into Benjamin Clothes. When we show $25 clothing, made by the biggest and best tailoring house in New York City, at $17.50, the result will be the biggest sale of apparel we've ever held.

Perhaps you have read the advertising of some merchants in which apparel has been offered at less than half its worth. You'll not find such reductions advertised here. Our regular prices do not put us in a position that would warrant such reductions. Perhaps you've visited these sales that looked so attractive on paper. We trust you have, for you'll be able then to realize more fully the superior values this sale offers. When we say $25.00 garment at $17.50, you'll find the best $25.00 garments made at this price. We don't offer trumped-up values—We could not afford to do so.

You've seen the clothes we've been selling at $20. They're Now $14.75

This is not clothing of the mediocre kind, but distinctive types created by New York's best tailors

THE style, the tailoring and the fabrics that constitute these $20.00 clothes are really wonderful. Alfred Benjamin & Co. is the biggest tailoring house in New York City. They cut over a million yards of woollens a year and employ 3,000 skilled workmen. Due to this immense business their products must excel. This sale enables you to purchase New York City's best styles at $14.75. This is not loose talk, but a positive statement that we will back to the letter. Did one pattern in our window impress you more than another. If it did, you'll find it here at $14.75 instead of $20.00 during the week following May 15.

Every fancy suit formerly priced at $20 enters this sale at $14.75. Every suit a distinctive example of the tailoring art—made in New York City by New York's best tailors. This sale will last but one week, beginning May 15. Every suit made this season.

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY.

Wright-Metzler Tailored Suits at Clearance Prices

This announcement will come as a great surprise to the public as this action on our part is unprecedented. We want you to read every word of this carefully

If given a choice, there isn't a woman in this section but that would select a Wright-Metzler garment in preference to any other. She knows how they fit, how they retain their shape, how good are the fabrics and linings, and how vastly different they look from the ordinary tailored garment. We realize all this distinctiveness through our immense buying power. Buying for two of the biggest stores in this section means something. It means that we can demand many things that ordinary merchants cannot secure. Our suits reflect this advantage to a decided degree.

OUR ADVERTISED PRICES are bona fide. We don't offer garments at less than half price. Our suits were not originally priced to warrant such action, but we tell you emphatically that what we do advertise you'll find carried out to the letter. For $18.75 you'll find suits worth $27.50; suits that you have seen here at $27.50. Come expecting to find the best suits that ever entered your wardrobe at the prices marked upon them. The best possible values to offer. The sale will begin May 15th. These little prices will enable many women to have a new Spring suit even though they had given up the idea.
